Course Information

Who is this course for?

This course is ideal for learners who wish to develop an in-depth knowledge of behaviour that challenges in order to progress into related employment in health and social care. Anyone who currently works in education or health and social care settings would also benefit from the course.

What do you need to apply for the course?

Learners wishing to undertake the certificate should be aged 18 or over. You will need to have at least a Level 1 qualification in literacy as you will be expected to write answers for assessment purposes.

If this is your first full level 2 qualification you will be asked to complete a declaration form.

Call us on 0191 5116127 to enrol.

What are the key things you'll learn?

This course is split into four manageable units:

Unit 1: Understand behaviour that challenges

Unit 2: Understand how to support positive behaviour

Unit 3: Understand the importance of effective communication and the management of behaviour that challenges

Unit 4: Understand the role of reflection and support for those involved in incidents of behaviour that challenges

How will you learn?

You will be allocated your own study pack and have a personal tutor who you can contact throughout your studies. You will be required to work through a series of tasks and activities designed to reinforce the learning process and demonstrate your knowledge. (This qualification is also available on-line).

Where could this course take you?

After successfully completing the course candidates will be able to further their own continuous professional development, which may improve their career prospects or progress to further training. You could also progress on to further study in the field or other Distance Learning programmes.
