Child Protection & Safeguarding Policy

1. Policy Statement

- 1.1. This policy is the Child Protection & Safeguarding Policy of City of Sunderland College trading as: Sunderland College, Hartlepool Sixth Form and Northumberland College. These colleges will be referred to as “The College” throughout this document.
- 1.2. The College fully recognises and accepts that it has a statutory and moral duty to ensure that the College functions with a view to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children/young people and vulnerable adults receiving education and training at the College. This includes ensuring they have support in situations where they could come into harm, be abused, be radicalised, or drawn into extremism.
- 1.3. The College endeavours to create and maintain a safe learning environment for all students. The College has a strategic safeguarding lead within the Senior Leadership Team together with a deputy/operational designated safeguarding lead, designated safeguarding leads and designated staff to ensure appropriate protocols are in place. Any identified concerns or requests for early support and intervention can be addressed and supported in partnership with parents/care givers and other agencies as appropriate.
- 1.4. The Safeguarding Policy (including Prevent) covers all members of the College community, but highlights specific reference to safeguarding children and vulnerable adults. Definitions of these categories are as follows:

1.4.1. The broad definition of a ‘child’ is:

‘Anyone who has not reached their 18th birthday. ‘Children’ therefore means ‘children and young people’.

The fact that a child has reached 16 years of age, is living independently or is in further education, does not change his or her status or entitlement to services or protection under the Children Act 1989 (revised 2004) and Working Together to Safeguard Children: A guide to inter-agency working to safeguard and promote the welfare of children December 2023).

Care experienced students (Cared For and Care Leavers), young carers, young parents and students with special educational needs up to age 25 may also need additional services, assistance, protection and consideration.

1.4.2. The broad definition of a ‘vulnerable adult’ is:

‘Those adults who are or maybe in need of community care services by reason of mental or other disability, age or illness’ and who may be unable to take care of, or unable to protect themselves, against significant harm or exploitation (Department of Health 2000).

The definition of vulnerable adults includes, but is not exclusive to, individuals with any of the following:

- Learning Difficulties
- Physical Impairments
- Sensory Impairments
- Mental Health Needs
- Aged Related Frailty
- Dementia
- Brain Injuries
- Drug or Alcohol Problems
- Adverse Childhood experiences
- Social-economic hardship
- Domestic Violence

1.5. The policy is available on the College's website and is shared with staff annually as part of safeguarding bulletins and held electronically on the staff intranet.

1.6. Information on our Safeguarding Policy is provided to all visitors and a copy of the policy is available on request.

2. Scope

2.1. This Policy applies to all those working in, studying and visiting any College site including students, the College workforce, Governors, volunteers and visitors to the College including contracted services such as agency staff, employers offering work placements, transportation companies, sub-contractors and contractors with direct access to children, young people and vulnerable adults.

2.2. Students aged 14-16 whose main education provider is a School are covered by all aspects of the Policy when at the College. In accordance with agreed partnership protocols, there is a separate procedure for Child Protection referrals as schools retain accountability for external referrals. Appendix 9.6 details the safeguarding procedure for the '14-16 Building Careers Programme' Should there be an emergency and the College is unable to contact the appropriate school, the College will apply its referral procedures to the situation to ensure a child is safe.

2.3. Employers and sub-contractors will be asked to make a commitment to safeguarding students' welfare by endorsing an agreed statement of principles. Any person whose normal duties include regular caring for, training, looking after or supervising a child or vulnerable adult in the workplace where that person has been specifically designated to have responsibility for such activities will be subjected to vetting and DBS checking. Providers will be monitored annually for compliance with process and must report any incidents to the college for any subcontracted provision. For employers providing apprenticeship and/or industry placements, DBS checking will be undertaken on a risk-based approach.

2.4. For apprenticeships and long-term placements, the College will ensure that additional safeguards are in place, these must include staff who will have had training in child protection, completing risk assessments and arranging placements.

2.5. For safeguarding incidents where an individual or organisation uses the College's premises, the College will follow their safeguarding policy and procedure, including informing the Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO).

3. Aims of the Policy/Underpinning Principles

3.1 The College fully recognises and accepts the responsibility it has regarding safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children, young people and vulnerable adult students, (inside and outside of the home, including online) including the need for early support and intervention. community when considering the wellbeing of its students.

3.2 The College takes a whole College approach to child protection safeguarding, underpinning all relevant processes and policy development.

3.3 All new employees of the College, including Apprentices appointed to work within the organisation, will be subject to an Enhanced Disclosure via the Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS). 3.5 All staff, including Governors and volunteers, students and visitors should display their official college photo ID badge on the relevant coloured lanyard at all times, in order for students and visitors to feel safe and be able to recognise appropriate professionals that can offer support on behalf of the College. All staff have a duty to challenge non-compliance in order that unauthorised people on site can be identified and dealt with accordingly.

3.6 The College will deliver curriculum which builds student resilience by strengthening critical thinking skills so they will be less likely to accept information without question which will help keep them physically and emotionally safe from harm and risk of radicalisation, both inside and outside of the College premises and online.

3.7 It is the responsibility of all members of the College workforce to record and report concerns under this policy.

3.8 This policy, and its associated procedures, is designed to provide guidance for members of staff in dealing with suspicions of, and incidents of, abuse. Whilst any member of staff can make a referral to Social Care, any final decisions in relation to referral to appropriate agencies will be made by the designated safeguarding lead.

3.13 Governors, the Chief Executive Officer, Principals, and all staff working with students will receive safeguarding and child protection training during their induction to familiarise themselves with safeguarding issues, including online safety, and their responsibilities relating to the College's policies and procedures. All staff members will receive refresher training every three years alongside regular safeguarding and child protection updates via email, bulletins and staff meetings at least annually, to provide them with relevant skills and knowledge to safeguard children. Additionally, Governors will receive training at regular intervals to provide them with the knowledge to ensure that the College's safeguarding policies and procedures are effective.

3.14 The designated safeguarding lead and other designated staff for child protection and safeguarding will undertake refresher training at least every two years and will attend further training as and when required to enhance their knowledge base and function in this specialist capacity.

3.15 The College's policy and associated procedures have been devised by the governing body after taking account of relevant legislation and guidance issued and is reviewed on an annual basis.

3.16 Additionally, the governing body notes and draws to the attention of the College staff the criminal offences that may be committed in connection with the welfare of children, young people and vulnerable adults, in particular those involving abuse of trust which prohibits staff from engaging in, or encouraging, sexual activity with students who are under the age of 18 or deemed vulnerable. This policy makes protection responsibilities clear and gives the College the ability to dismiss or otherwise discipline employees who fail in this duty.

5. Implementation

5.1 Key Terms

The concept of significant harm is the threshold that justifies compulsory intervention into family life in the best interests of the child or young person and gives local authorities a duty to make enquires as to whether to take action (Section 47, Children Act 1989, revised 2024) to safeguard or promote the welfare of a young person who is suffering, or likely to suffer significant harm. The Act also gives powers to the Police known as Police Powers of Protection to take emergency action to protect a young person from significant harm. In the absence of Police Powers of Protection, the Local Authority can apply to the Court to secure an Emergency Protection Order.

5.1.2 : Abuse, neglect and exploitation

Abuse and neglect are forms of maltreatment. Somebody may abuse or neglect by inflicting harm, or by failing to act to prevent harm. Individuals may be abused in a family or in an organisational or community setting, by those known to them or, more rarely, by a stranger, for example via the internet. They may be abused by an adult or adults, or another child or children.

It may involve conveying to an individual that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate, or valued only as far as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on an individual. These may include interactions that are beyond the individual's development capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill- treatment of another. It may involve serious bullying (including cyber bullying), causing an individual frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of an individual. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in an all types of maltreatment of an individual, though it may occur alone.

The activities may involve physical contact, including assault by penetration (for example, rape or oral sex) or non- penetrative acts such as masturbation, kissing, rubbing and touching outside of clothing. They may also include non-contact activities, such as involving an individual in looking at, or in the production of, sexual images, watching sexual activities, encouraging an individual to behave in sexually inappropriate ways, or grooming a child in preparation for abuse (including via the internet). Sexual abuse is not solely perpetrated by adult males. Women can also commit acts of sexual abuse, as can children.

5.1.6 : Neglect

Neglect is the persistent failure to meet a child, young person or vulnerable adult's basic physical and / or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of their health or development. 5.1.9 Child Sexual Exploitation (CSE), Missing & Sexually Exploited and Trafficked – MSET (Sunderland), Vulnerable, Exploited, Missing and Trafficked – VEMT (Hartlepool) Child Sexual Exploitation - CSE (Northumberland)

Sexual exploitation of children and young people under 18 involves exploitative situations, contexts and relationships where young people (or a third person or persons) receive 'something' (e.g. food, accommodation, drugs, alcohol, cigarettes, affection, gifts, money) as a result of them performing, and/or another or others performing on them, sexual activities. Sexual exploitation is often linked to periods of going missing from home or education and, in some cases, individuals may be trafficked.

Child sexual exploitation can occur through the use of technology without the child or young person's immediate recognition; for example being persuaded to post sexual images on the Internet/mobile phones without immediate payment or gain. In all cases, those exploiting the child/young person have power over them by virtue of their age, gender, intellect, physical strength and/or economic or other resources.

Violence, coercion and intimidation are common, involvement in exploitative relationships being characterised in the main by the child or young person's limited availability of choice resulting from their social/economic and/or emotional vulnerability.

5.1.10 Child trafficking

These crimes include holding a person in a position of slavery, servitude forced or compulsory labour, or facilitating their travel with the intention of exploiting them soon after.

Although human trafficking often involves an international cross-border element, it is also possible to be a victim of modern slavery within your own country.

It is possible to be a victim even if consent has been given to be moved.

5.1.12 Female Genital Mutilation (FGM)

Female genital mutilation (sometimes referred to as female circumcision) refers to procedures that intentionally alter or cause injury to the female genital organs for non- medical reasons. The practice is illegal in the UK. An estimated 137,000 women in the UK are affected by female genital mutilation (FGM), however the true extent is unknown, due to the "hidden" nature of the crime. The girls may be taken to their countries of origin so that FGM can be carried out during the summer holidays, allowing them time to "heal" before their return to school. There are also worries that some girls may have FGM performed in the UK.

5.1.13 Forced Marriage

Forced marriage is an offence, and different to an arranged marriage where both parties consent.

A Forced marriage is when a person is likely to face physical pressure such as threats, physical or sexual violence or emotional/psychological pressure.

community by breaking the honour code.

Honour based violence can encompass various offences which are used to control behaviours within families or social groups to protect perceived cultural and religious beliefs and/or honour. Honour based violence can include such things as forced marriage, domestic abuse, sexual harassment, sexual violence and threats to kill (this list is not exhaustive).

5.1.15 Domestic Abuse

Children and young people can be significantly harmed by Domestic abuse, both physically and emotionally. Children and young people do not necessarily need to be in the same room to be affected by Domestic abuse as often being in another room has an impact on their emotional wellbeing. It can impact children and young people through seeing, hearing or experiencing the effects of domestic abuse and/or experiencing it through their own intimate relationships.

Children can be at risk, as they get older, of being harmed directly by domestic abuse as abusers exert further exacerbated control over them.

Abusive behaviours can occur in any relationship and both men and women can be abusers. Domestic abuse is a type of controlling, bullying, threatening or violent behaviour. Domestic abuse is not only physical violence, it includes emotional, physical, financial, sexual and psychological abuse.

If young people have witnessed Domestic abuse, they may be at risk of entering into an abusive relationship or being perpetrators of domestic abuse. Witnessing domestic abuse is child abuse. Teenagers can suffer domestic abuse in their relationships.

5.1.16 Operation Encompass

Operation Encompass is a police and education early information sharing partnership enabling education providers to offer immediate support for children and young people experiencing domestic abuse. Information is shared by the police with a trained Key Adult (DSL) prior to the start of the next school/college day after officers have attended a domestic abuse incident, thus enabling appropriate support to be given.

5.1.17 Financial or Material Abuse

Online abuse, cyberbullying and grooming are types of abuse that happen

via the internet. Children and young people are at risk of online abuse by playing games, social networks and using mobile phones. Online abuse can occur at any time of the day, and this can even impact when a young person is in their safe space, for example their bedroom. Online abuse may involve blackmail, sexting, sexual exploitation, distribution of images, or coercion to commit crimes.

When a child or young person is being groomed, online accounts are ways in which the perpetrator can use platforms to disguise true identity and form trusting relationships with the intention of meeting up with the young person.

The College will use communication with parents/carers to reinforce the importance of children/young people being safe online and provide them with information on:

- What systems we have in place to filter and monitor online use
- What we are asking their child to do online, including the sites they will be asked to access
- Who from the college their child is going to be interacting with online

5.1.20 Child on Child Abuse

All Staff should be aware of the signs of abuse and neglect so that they can identify children who may need help or protection. The College recognises that children are capable of abusing their peers. Child on child abuse can take many forms and some types can be gender specific. should be aware of the signs of abuse and neglect so that they can identify children who may need help or protection.

- sexual violence, such as rape, assault by penetration and sexual assault; (this may include an online element which facilitates, threatens and/or encourages sexual violence);
- sexual harassment, such as sexual comments, remarks, jokes and online sexual harassment, which may be standalone or part of a broader pattern of abuse;
- causing someone to engage in sexual activity without consent, such as forcing someone to strip, touch themselves sexually, or to engage in sexual activity with a third party;
- consensual and non-consensual sharing of nudes and semi nudes images and or videos (also known as sexting or youth produced sexual imagery);
- upskirting, which typically involves taking a picture under a person's clothing without their permission, with the intention of viewing their genitals or buttocks to obtain sexual gratification, or cause the victim humiliation, distress or alarm; and

- initiation/hazing type violence and rituals (this could include activities involving harassment, abuse or humiliation used as a way of initiating a person into a group and may also include an online element).

Child on child abuse is any form of physical, sexual, emotional and financial abuse, and coercive control, exercised between young people and within young people's relationships (both intimate and non-intimate). These types of abuse rarely take place in isolation and often indicate wider safeguarding concerns. For example, a teenage girl may be in a sexually exploitative relationship with a teenage boy who is himself being physically abused by a family member or by older boys. Equally, sexual bullying in education settings can result in the sexual exploitation of children by their peers. For a young person who is in an abusive relationship, what may appear to be a case of domestic violence may also involve sexual exploitation. Young people's experiences of abuse and violence are rarely isolated events, and they can often be linked to other things that are happening in their lives and spaces in which they spend their time. Any response to peer-on-peer abuse therefore needs to consider the range of possible types of child-on-child abuse set out above and capture the full context of that young person's experiences. The College does this by adopting a contextual safeguarding approach and ensuring that our response to incidents of peer-on-peer abuse takes into account any potential complexity.

Abuse is abuse and should never be tolerated or passed off as "banter" or "part of growing up". See Anti-Bullying Policy (included as Appendix 9.) 5 for procedure in dealing with child-on-child abuse.

5.1.21 Serious Violence

All staff should be aware of the indicators, which may signal children are at risk from, or are involved with serious violent crime. These may include increased absence from education, a change in friendships or relationships with older individuals or groups, a significant decline in performance, signs of self-harm or a significant change in wellbeing, or signs of assault or unexplained injuries. Unexplained gifts or new possessions could also indicate that children have been approached by, or are involved with, individuals associated with criminal networks or gangs and may be at risk of criminal exploitation. There are a range of risk indicators which increase the likelihood of involvement in serious violence, including being male, having been frequently absent or permanently excluded from school, having experienced child maltreatment and having been involved in offending, such as theft or robbery. Advice to schools and colleges on gangs and youth violence - GOV.UK \(www.gov.uk\)

5.1.22 County lines

County lines is the term used by police and law enforcement to describe the approach taken by criminal groups originating from urban areas across the country to sell drugs and conduct other criminal activities.

Gangs typically use children and vulnerable people to deliver drugs to customers and this often involves deception, intimidation, violence, debt bondage and/or grooming. Criminal exploitation of children and vulnerable adults: county lines - GOV.UK \(www.gov.uk\)

5.1.23 Harmful sexual behaviour

Harmful sexual behaviour is where a child or young person uses power and control as well as inappropriate touching, sexual violence and threats, and/or explicit words and phrases.

However, context around the behaviours are to be ascertained as some behaviours may be deemed within the normal parameters of their age and development. They can be identified through the use of the NSPCC harmful sexual behaviour framework tool. Harmful sexual behaviour framework | NSPCC Learning

5.1.24 Upskirting

The Voyeurism (Offences) Act 2019, which is commonly known as the Upskirting Act, came into force on 12 April 2019. 'Upskirting', typically involves taking a picture under a person's clothing without them knowing, with the intention of viewing their genitals or buttocks to obtain sexual gratification, or cause the victim humiliation, distress or alarm. It is now a criminal offence.

5.1.25 Prevent Duty

The College workforce and governors must have due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism in accordance with the Counter Terrorism and Security Act 2015.

5.1.26 Discriminatory

This may include abuse, bullying and harassment based upon the individual's age, sex, disability, religion, race or sexual orientation (DoH 2000).

5.1.27 Radicalisation

The process by which a person comes to support terrorism and forms of extremism leading to terrorism (Prevent Strategy.Gov.uk).

5.1.28 Extremism

Extremism is where extreme views are considered politically or religiously outside the main attitudes of society.

5.1.29 Abuse of Trust:

Under the Sexual Offenders Act 2003, it is an offence for a person over 18 to have a sexual relationship with a young person under 18 where that person is in a position of trust in respect of that young person, even if the relationship is consensual. This includes teaching and a range of support staff within educational establishments.

5.1.30 Children in Need of Protection

Some children and young people are in need of Protection because they are suffering or likely to suffer "significant harm". Where local authorities believe a young person is suffering, or likely to suffer, significant harm, they have a duty to make enquiries to decide whether they should take action to safeguard or promote the welfare of a young person under Section 47 guidance.

5.1.31 Children in Need

Children and young people who are defined as being "in need" under Section 17 of the Children Act 1989, are those whose vulnerability is such that they are unlikely to reach or maintain a satisfactory level of health or development, or their health and development will be significantly impaired, without the provision of service(s). A child with a disability is a child in need.

5.1.32 Cared For Children

The most common reason for children becoming looked after is as a result of abuse and/or neglect. Governing bodies and the College will ensure that staff have the skills, knowledge and understanding necessary to keeping looked after children safe. The appropriate staff will have the information they need in relation to a child's looked after legal status (whether they are looked after under voluntary arrangements with consent of parents or on an interim or full care order) and contact arrangements with birth parents or those with parental responsibility. They will also have information about the child's care arrangements and the levels of authority delegated to the carer by the authority looking after them. The designated person for looked after children will ensure that the designated safeguarding lead will have details of the child's social worker and the name of the virtual school head in the authority that looks after the child.

5.1.33 Children Leaving Care

A child or young person stops being looked after if they are adopted, return home or reach the age of 18 years old. Once the young person reaches the age of 18, the Local Authority have a duty of care to support them until they are at least 21, however the support ends when the person reaches the age of 25.

5.1.34 Toxic Trio

The toxic trio is a term which describes a combination of issues which impact on a parent/carer and their ability to meet the basic needs of the child or young person. The three issues are domestic abuse, mental health and drug and alcohol misuse. Working Together 2015 have noted these issues rarely exist in isolation, hence the term toxic trio.

5.1.35 Information Sharing

Information sharing is vital in identifying and tackling all forms of abuse. Whilst the Data Protection Act 2018 places duties on organisations to process personal information fairly and lawfully and to keep the information they hold safe and secure, this is not a barrier to sharing information where the failure to do so would result in a child being placed at risk of harm. Fears about sharing information cannot be allowed to stand in the way of the need to promote the welfare and protect the safety of children.

Where a child/young person leaves the college, the designated safeguarding lead will ensure their child protection file is transferred to the new provider as soon as possible, ensuring secure transit, and confirmation of receipt should be obtained.

In addition to the child protection file, the designated safeguarding lead will also consider if it would be appropriate to share any information with their new provider in advance of a child leaving. For example, information that would allow the new provider to continue supporting victims of abuse and have that support in place for when the child/young person arrives.

5.1.36 Operation Divan

Operation Divan was initially launched at the beginning of February 2019 in order to address knife crime amongst juveniles within the Northern Area Command. The operation is being trialled by the Youth Offending Team. This operation has been implemented in North Yorkshire Police and has already having an impact in educating young people about knife crime and the law around knives. Although this has been aimed at juveniles under the age of 18 this could be adapted for adults.

This Process will be used where a juvenile under the age of 18 has been identified through the intelligence system and where a crime has not been committed or a juvenile has been no further actioned for a crime involving a knife or pointed bladed article.

5.1.38 Absence from Education

A child being absent, as well as missing, from education can be a warning sign of a range of safeguarding concerns, including sexual abuse, sexual exploitation or child criminal exploitation.

Appendix 9.4: PREVENT Duty for FE Colleges

Prevent is 1 of the 4 elements of CONTEST, the government's counter-terrorism strategy. It aims to stop people becoming terrorists or supporting terrorism.

The Prevent strategy:

- responds to the ideological challenge we face from terrorism and aspects of extremism, and the threat we face from those who promote these views
- provides practical help to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism and ensure they are given appropriate advice and support
- works with a wide range of sectors (including education, criminal justice, faith, charities, online and health) where there are risks of radicalisation that we need to deal with

The strategy covers all forms of terrorism, including far right extremism and some aspects of non-violent extremism.

The Home Office works with local authorities, a wide range of government departments, and community organisations to deliver the Prevent strategy. The police also play a significant role in Prevent, in much the same way as they do when taking a preventative approach to other crimes. The Home Office uses a range of measures to challenge extremism in the UK, including:

- where necessary, preventing apologists for terrorism and extremism from travelling to this country
- giving guidance to local authorities and institutions to understand the threat from extremism and the statutory powers available to them to challenge extremist speakers
- funding a specialist police unit which works to remove online content that breaches terrorist legislation
- supporting community-based campaigns and activity which can effectively rebut terrorist and extremist propaganda and offer alternative views to our most vulnerable target audiences - in this context they work with a range of civil society organisations
- supporting people who are at risk of being drawn into terrorist activity through the Channel process, which involves several agencies working together to give individuals access to services such as health and education, specialist mentoring and diversionary activities.

This Act places a duty on specified authorities including Further and Higher Education, to have due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism (the Prevent Duty).

The College is committed to supporting young people who are susceptible to being drawn into terrorism through its safeguarding policies and procedures and recognises that this can support the College's contribution to the Prevent duty.

The College works in partnership with the BIS Regional FE/HE Prevent Co-ordinator and is represented at silver level within the Local Authority task groups.

All students will be given information about radicalisation and extremism, they will have a safe place to discuss the risk relating to their communities and they will know where to go to ask for help.

Under the Prevent Duty, the College will ensure all staff have the skills and knowledge to refer any concerns appropriately. Designated safeguarding staff will be trained to recognise when it is appropriate to make a referral to the Channel Programme to support students who may be vulnerable to such influences and where we believe a student is being directly influenced by extremist materials or influences.

It is unacceptable to download or transmit any material which might reasonably be considered obscene, abusive, sexist, racist, defamatory, related to violent extremism or terrorism or which is intended to annoy, harass or intimidate another person. This also applies to use of social media systems accessed from college systems.

The College has systems in place for assessing and rating risks. Risk assessments for planned events, including off site events, external visitors and speakers to mitigate any risk and clearly set out what is required for any event to proceed.

Contact with external services

Referral for any issue concerning potential radicalisation to extremism should be managed as any other safeguarding referral, safeguarding staff will then refer any concerning information using agreed referral pathway.

The College's Single Point of Contact (SPOC) for Prevent is Vikkie Morton, Vice Principal Student Services & Community Engagement as the strategic designated safeguarding lead. In their absence, the next point of contact is Ruth Magnus, Director of Student Services in their role as Deputy strategic designated safeguarding lead.
